

Lindi Books Presents

THE TEA PARTY

Lindi Books Presents

THE TEA PARTY

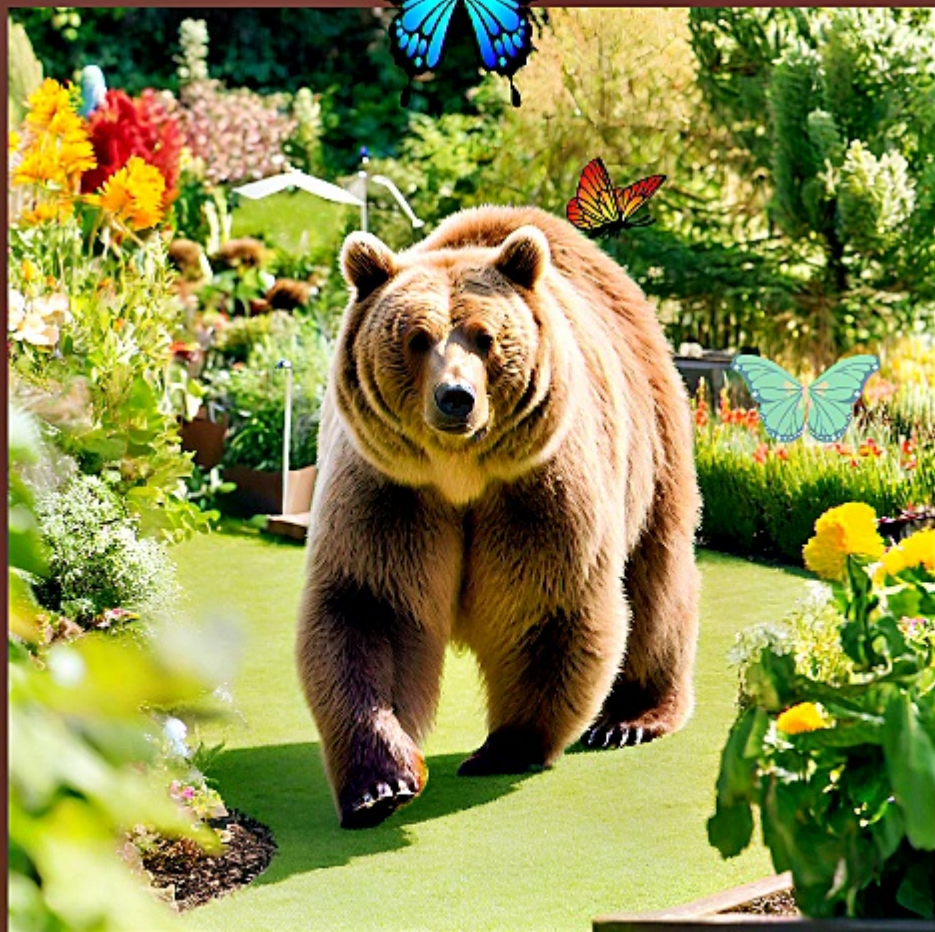

Once upon a time in a small house, there lived a fluffy bear named Happy. Happy loved to explore and discover new things.

One Bright morning. happy woke up with a big yawn. It was a special day because the sun was shining, and the garden outside was calling her outside.

Happy tiptoed through the garden, feeling the soft grass beneath her tiny paws. Birds chirped happily, and butterflies dance in the air.

Happy explored, she stumbled upon a magic flower. The petals had different colors, and when sniffed it, a sprinkle of glitter fill the air.

To Happy's surprise, a tiny crown appeared on her head! The magical flower had turned her into the Princess of the Garden.

With her new crown,
Happy met friendly
animals in the garden, a chatty bunny and playful squirrel.

Together they all decided to have a magical tea party under the shade of a giant tree. The bunny brought carrots and ther squirrel brought acorn cookies.

After the tea party, Happy on the back of a friendly butterfly, they soared through the sky,
exploring the magical
world above.

As the sun began to set,
Happy thanked her new friends and flew back home. So grateful for the enchanting day.

With a joyful heart
Happy was in her bed dreaming about the magical adventures in the garden.

See you at the next Tea Party

How to Plan a Children's Tea Party

Hosting a children's tea party is a fun way to celebrate a special occasion or introduce children to the custom of tea drinking. Make the experience magical for your child .

Planning and inviting Guest Decorating and Setting the Scene
Serving Tea and Snacks

The background of the page is a light blue surface covered with various colorful confetti items, including circular dots in shades of pink, yellow, orange, and green, as well as yellow and pink streamers and gold star-shaped confetti. The entire page is framed by a thick orange border.

1

Select a theme. Pick something fun that will appeal to the age group you're throwing the party for.

2

Make a guest list. The number of children you invite will depend upon your space. If you have tons of room (and patience) you can invite your child's entire class.

3

Choose a date and time. Weekend parties held during the day are often easiest for parents and children alike. Choose whether a morning tea party or an afternoon tea party best fits the ages and schedules of the children attending.

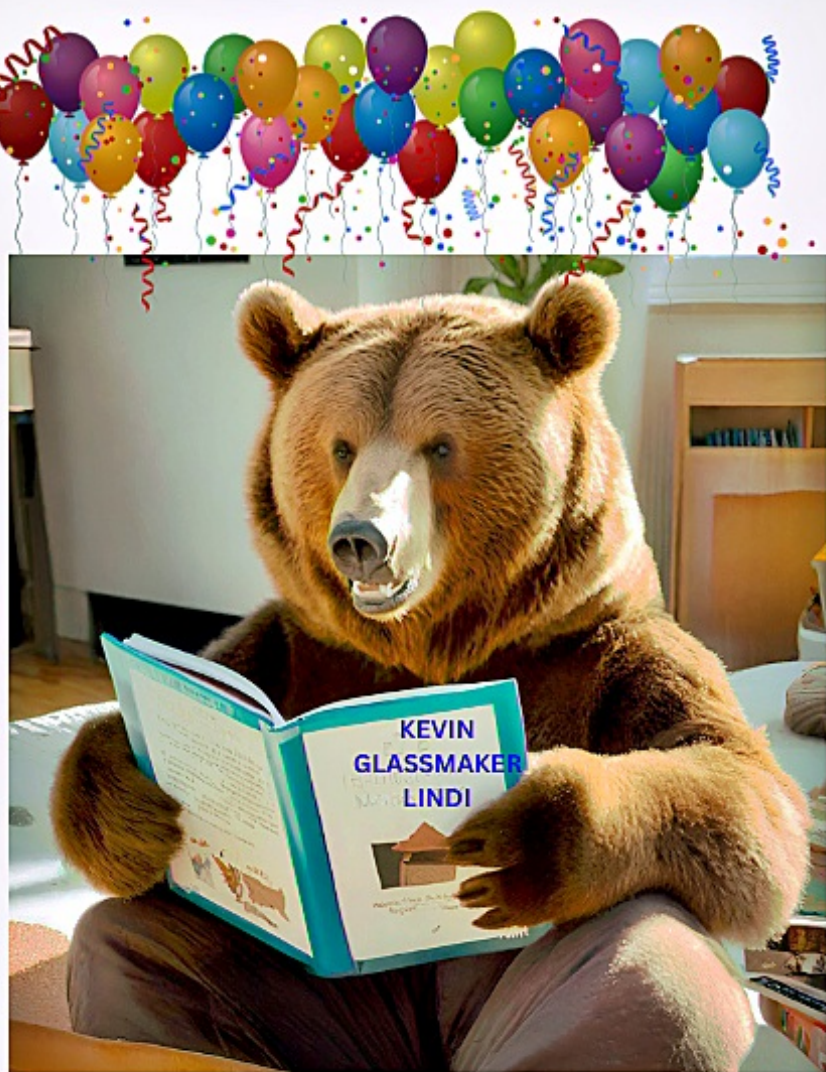

4

Make the invitations. For children, the cuter and more colorful, the better. Make your invitations to match the theme.

5

Send the invitations. If you're mailing your invitations, send them 3-4 weeks in advance. If you're hand delivering them to the children's parents or sending out an evite, two weeks is enough time.

This Tea Party is dedicated to Chloe Written by LINDI

At Linda Books we believe in the power of literature to spark imagination, bridge culture gaps, foster education.

Our mission as a non-profit organization is to spread the joy of both printed and electronic books across the globe.

Together, let's turn the pages of possibility and build a future where the written word serves as a catalyst for positive change.

LINDI BOOKS

Spreading literacy one story at a time.

2024@ lindibookss.org

Photo Album

Draw your own
Tea Party

